“ Libby was a fabulous babysitter for my twins when they were quite little. We lived right near her family on Meadowood Road and she especially came on Sundays when my husband and I went to church. It was fun having another twin take care of our twins. One time, our son pulled away from her when they were taking a walk around Trianon (when it was not yet a development) and our son pulled away from her and by mistake fell into a small goldfish pond. Libby leapt in, pulled him out, calmed him down, and by the time we got home, he was sound asleep in his crib. Poor Libby was still quivering but she had done a fabulous job, as she always did. She was, indeed, an amazing caregiver.

“ I want to extend my heartfelt condolences to Libby's family. We lost a wonderful, kind, gentle person way too soon. I went to middle school and high school with Libby. At Radnor High and middle school I was a shy, skinny, freckled kid who lacked confidence. Libby went out of her way to include me at a time when I was hanging on by a thread to a few friend groups. To her children and husband, I'm telling you what you already know, Libby was absolutely extraordinary in that way and a gift to us all. She extended a sort of "veil of kindness" to everyone around her. I remember her as sunny and welcoming at all times. Libby was the "glue" of the class of 1979 at RHS who made us all feel important. I am grateful to have known her and although I moved after high school, I am devastated to learn of her passing. I wish her family strength and resilience during this very difficult time. “ I didn't really get to know Libby and Kevin until we needed help with our mom. It's been years of helping now. Libby was always kind, caring and funny. Another Angel spreading her love and kindness in our eternal home. You will be missed more than you could ever know

“ How does one capture, summarize or do justice in words to Libby? She was the same person I've known since K/garten. She was kind, caring, good humored, warm, had a quick and ready laugh and friendly to all - always. She was always a love when she would greet my Mother in recent years with high spirits and a sweet joy that stood out to my Mom and therefore me - and was "So Libby!" She was and is a gentle spirit who I will keep with me always - Much love & warmth to her family -

“ I don't know how, but Libby always seemed to know when I was uncomfortable in a situation, she would say something reassuring or just smile and greet me, thank you Libby
