“ So sorry for your loss, my condolences to you and your family. I would have attended her service, sorry I didn't know. Loved 'Aunt' Millie, she always held a special place in my heart.

“ 35 years ago Millie came to us from a heating oil company that decided to replace her with a computer. What that company didn't know is that you can't replace Millie with a computer. Through the years, as she managed our varied enterprises, she never failed to meet the sometimes almost insurmountable daily challenges. With the highest integrity, she took care of anything and everything. You didn't need to check up on Millie. We could disappear for months on end, returning to find Millie at her desk, busy, accounting for every penny, and presenting herself to the world, pragmatically and always with good humor. On the phone, “What d'ya want?” was her efficient manner of getting down to brass tacks.

Through the years, we learned that Millie was a lot more than a hired gun. She cared about everyone, and, concealed behind her brusque manner, an open and generous spirit. She became the heart and soul of St. Marks Place and touched everyone she met with her warmth and good humor. New York's finest hung out with her in the store, and as time went on, she really did become the mayor of St Marks Place. The hundreds of people who met her could never forget her and clustered around her like a bunch of grapes.

As time went on, she became part of our family, sharing her spirited presence with our daughters and son and all those members of our family and friends who were ever fortunate enough to talk to her.

We miss her deeply and feel greatly diminished by her loss, this wonderful and unique woman who enriched our lives with her love, compassion and humor. She is irreplaceable!
