“ To my daddy, He ruled with an iron fist and gentle hand.He told all 7 of us separately that we were his favorite.When Heather and I were small and we were sick he was always there with his cure all,a hot toddi.When he was potty training me and I was sick and throwing up he would put me on his knee and hold me.Or when he did something spectacular for a farmer and I ended up with a pony named Chestnut.He would work 12 to 8 come home dress Heather and I and we would take the train to Philadelphia and walk to Wanamaker's.He would buy us matching clothes.Other days he would put us in the car and drive to grandma Greers.We always had to make a pit stop either Heather or I would have to pee,he would hold us over a guardrail and be on our way.He always had a roll of toilet paper in the car.He had the best sense of humor,you thought you were living with Mel Blanc doing all the cartoon voices.His talent went beyond that his art work was incredible.I still have a chalk drawing hanging in my living room.Give him a guitar and watch him perform,he also shared his talents with each of us.When I was in kindergarten I was threatened and he arrested the guy who threatened my life.He loved me so much.I had a police escort to and from school until the 3rd grade.I am happy to say I had my daddy for 52 years and I am very grateful for it.I love you daddy. P.s. I will miss coffee Thursday. Love you,hot stuff

“ Peg, I am so sorry for you and your family's loss. I remember when I first met Harry in his police uniform many years ago. It is so hard to believe that so much time has passed since that memory of you and him together outside your mother's house. Please know that my thoughts and prayers are with you and your family at this time. God Bless.

“ RIP Al, You will always be remembered as a kind and caring man. Because you were so intuned to people and cared so much, you knew my Dad was in need of immeadiate care. Your quick actions gave us more time with him and we never forgot it or took that moment for granted. I wish I could do the same for your family now. Your free now of all pain and stresses of this world, your job here is complete, And the world is a better place because of your love of family and community. RIP Al , Job well done!

“ One hell of a man with a pencil and paper, the stuff he could draw was incredible, he was a good grandfather to my boys an honorable police officer and above all a veteran. Will miss his wacky humor for sure. When a lot of people questioned my intentions to my wife at one time, he backed me up not all at one time felt the same. I will remember it always. A good father in law to me personally for sure

“ Always a joker and always a flirt. You'd do anything for a laugh. You loved us kids but the grandkids.... they were something special to you. From the first to the last when it came to them there was nothing in this world you wouldn't do. They loved you as much as you loved them. Justin has your wit and smarts and Em your artistic side. Wyatt we shall see but hopefully your love of music. Dakota and Drayden were blessed to have met you and loved you too. I can't even begin to tell you how I feel but that you knew. Your teddy bear. The one who even when no one else wanted to still went on vacations with you and mom because I loved everything about it. I know you are at peace, that doesn't stop me for wishing I could go back and do more. See you more, love you more. Words will never be able to express my love for you. The best man in the world. How lucky we all were.

“ Uncle Harry, somehow I imagine it was not a quiet day in heaven, today.
I can see that twinkle in your eyes, an ornery smile on your face, twisting and wiggling those ears and eyes, all while making our ancestors smile and laugh as they celebrate their reunion with you. I can only imagine what mischief you are up to!
Until we meet again...
