“ I know what I want to say I just can't put it into words but, I will try. I have been a complete mess with emotions and sadness with each and every passing of my family. Many people tell me she is just your great Aunt why are you so sad? That makes me think how sad is their life? Not to know the meaning of true love. You see not only was Aunt Al my great Aunt she was my friend, she was the one who made sure that every day I made it home from school when she drove the bus.. Even though I was not on her bus route she would take me home every single time I missed my bus.. She was the one to get up and get me up at every single wedding and dance and show me that every day is a gift don't waist it and have fun while you can.. She showed me courage while going through chemo treatments we was not afraid to talk about anything and take her wig off and show everyone that she was not afraid of the world. She showed me LOVE.

Almost every memory that I have of Aunt Al is one of Laughter and good times.. Many of them while working at the dinner.. Aunt Al, Aunt Nancy, Aunt Louie, Aunt Kay Debbie working in the back room prepping for the day was not a dull place with those girls around.. We would laugh and have fun. It didn't seem like work. I spent many, many days with these crazy women in that back room. And for that I am grateful because of these women I learned a lot about life, Family, Love, and a few secrets that I will never tell... Aunt Al I love you! Until we Laugh, and dance again. You will always be in my heart..
