“ My brother to whom I have always looked up to and even though we had our differences you have and will always be in my head and heart. I know I will see you again and just because because you got to see mom and dad before me doesn't make you better than me just privileged. You have always been a fighter and you gave it your all and for that I couldn't ask anymore from you. I am happy that you are out of pain now and looking down on us watching our foolish mistakes and craziness. Love you always Brother. I am and will miss you sooooo much. Love your baby sister Lynn.

“ Family quarrels have a total bitterness unmatched by others. Yet it sometimes happens that they also have a kind of tang, a pleasantness beneath the unpleasantness, based on the tacit understanding that this is not for keeps; that any limb you climb out on will still be there later for you to climb back. We had good times and badRIP BRO Butch -- Mignon McLaughlin
