“ Not sure where to start. His passing has totally caught me off guard. First and foremost I looked at Chris as a son. I would always be there for him and he would always be there for me no matter what. I will miss him coming to our home for dinner just about every Sunday. But I think what I'll miss most is our talks and and our trips together to center City Philadelphia. Me and Chris clicked from the very first time we meant because we thought alike. He loved his family and had some very big regrets. I don't know one person who didn't like him after they meant him. He had a great sense of humor and we spent alot of time laughing and I will very much miss that. He was a good person. I can't put into words how much I will miss him. I have a void in my life now because he is not here with my family. There was nothing my family wouldn't do for Chris. He loved the Phillies and loved watching movies. He also was a very smart person. I am having a very hard time wrapping my brain around him not being here anymore. My thoughts and prayers go out to those who totally loved Chris. Not one day will go by where he isn't missed by me and my family....

*I will miss you Chris. I was always happy to see you. I really enjoyed our conversations. You were funny, helpful and patient and yes, you were kind. You always had good stories. And yes, you loved your coffee and your Hershey's chocolate bars.
May you be at peace now Chris.
I love you. Madonna*
