

Donna Mills

July 24, 1963 - September 2, 2015

Donna L. Mills, age 52, wife of Henry J. Mills, of Limerick, PA, passed away on Wednesday, September 2, 2015 at home. Born in Bastrop, LA, she was a daughter of the late Donald and Frances (McKenzie) Moore.

“ We weren't lucky enough to know Donna personally, but based on my time with her son, she had a lot to be proud of.

“ When I was a kid, there'd be times I loved going to Aunt Donna's apartment. Of course, being a kid, I was jealous if Jason or Amy got some new toy or something to play with that I didn't, but beyond that, I just had a wonderful time hanging out with my aunt and cousins. We kind of lost touch when I got older and she'd moved away to Pennsylvania, but for a brief period of time, when my own life was at a crossroads, she and Henry opened their home to me and let me stay with them for awhile. Wish I could say I got my head on straight during that time, but it took me a few more years.

My mother, Connie and Donna would of course fight like sisters but they always had a lot of love for each other, and now that they're both gone, one can only hope they're reunited on the other side, still fighting like sisters but loving like sisters as well.

“ My favorite Memory of Donna was her nuturing and caring heart. She would always be the first one to take care of me when I was sick. When she was about ten we were remodeling the house we lived in and we needed help installing cabinets. I hired a little man who claimed to be able to do everything but he was a little bit of an unhandy man when it came to working with a hammer. Donna and I were in the living room when we heard him yell out. When we got to the kitchen he was holding his hand with a wound to one of his fingers. I hate to say it but I was more upset that he was staining my new floor than I was that he had hurt himself. Donna on the other hand jumped into action. She took him over to the sink and was having him let the cold water clean it off. Dr. Donna deciding it was not the bad, got some bandades and peroxide and fixed him right up. I had gone to my bedroom and when I came out I found the Little Man sitting at my kitchen table, all taped up eating a bowl of chicken noodle soup that Donna had made him, I was totally perplexed but waited until he left to ask her "Why Chicken Noodle Soup." Putting her little hands on her hips and looking at me with as much disdain as she could muster at ten for my total lack of nursing knowledge, she said, "Aunt Lecy everyone knows to make someone feel better when they are having a bad day you give them Chicken Noodle Soup." Lesson Learned and I will always love the fact that she cared so much for another person's feelings she was willing to give him our last can of Chicken Noodle Soup to make him feel better. “ Betty wanted me to share one of our favorite Sweet Donna stories with all of you. Betty and I shared a bed until I went to College, so basically all our life. When Frances would come to visit Donna slept with us. They had came to see us late one night when she was a baby still in diapers, and evidently she has been sick with a stomach ailment, so Betty took off her clothes to clean her and just left her in her clean diaper when they came to bed. Betty and her were at the top of the bed and I was at the foot of the bed. I awoke early the next morning to a very bad smell that I immediately knew what it was. I looked up at Betty and Donna and Donna was awake, sitting beside Betty, and looking back at me. She was covered from the top of her head to the bottom of her feet with what I can only say was baby poopie and lots of it, she looked as if she had finger painted in it. I looked over a Betty still sleeping contentedly and saw that she was just as equally covered in the brown stuff, and I said "Oh My Gosh Betty wake up you are covered in poopie!" This must have frightened Donna because without missing a beat, she put her hand on Betty's back and said, "This is my Mommy." I had to start laughing then and I told her "Well right at this moment I sure would not be claiming her." Donna loved for me to tell her that story too, and I must admit it is still making me laugh out loud just remembering her sweet little poop stained face and the fact that for years after that I would tell her, "Betty did it and blamed you." “ My condolences to the family on the loss of your loved one. I didn't know Donna, but was sorry to hear of her passing. When we lose someone we love in death; the pain, grief, and feelings of helplessness can seem unbearable. But remember that the Almighty God sees your tears, he feels your pain, and he will continue with you to comfort and sustain you through this difficult time. Because he cares for you. (1 Peter 5:7)
