“ As a first year teacher at PAJHS Betty was my first contact in the morning when I would be writing a morning announcement. One day I took her pen after I wrote my announcement. Later as Betty walked around the bulletin, as she did for her exercise, she stopped at my room and asked if she could talk to me. In her very gentle way Betty asked for her pen back, and said to me ". . . you seem like a nice young man Mr. Coyne, and I know that your parents always told you to put things back where you got them." Betty then walked away, and I never took her pen again after that. Betty was a gem and a very kind person. She gave me advice and clarification when I had a question. May you rest in peace Betty. God Bless.
