“ Me and Ej spent almost 4 years together and throughout that time we did/ experienced so much together. From our trip to Florida, to visiting his family in New York, to many festivals we attended together. We had many laughs and great memories that will be in my heart forever.. one thing Ej taught me was the power of my thoughts. He helped take me out of a very dark place in my life. He taught me positivity and how to speak things into existence. He had so many great ideas and beliefs that there was never a dull conversation with him. He loved his Spanish roots and introduced me to such amazing food and music. He was apart of the family no matter what. Ej will ALWAYS hold a place in my heart as I now have another guardian angel. Until we meet again 🙏

“ My dearest sweet EJ, I met you 4 years ago. You and my family spent a lot of time together. In that short amount of time I came to love you like a son that I never had but wanted. I want you to know that despite all the problems you may have faced, I am so proud of you and all the good things you did in this world and all the people your beautiful soul has touched. Your star was so bright and fierce you lit up a room just by entering it. I am so sad you had to leave so soon. I will carry you in my heart FOREVER. Now its time to take your place in Heaven and shine away my sweet sweet boy.

Love you Always

“ EJ and I went to HS together, after high school we fell off for about a year or two and winded up getting jobs together. I was his boss for a little and eventually he got me another job with him... we spent almost every single day together. From driving around aimlessly, to playing PS4 when his mom wasn't home, or just hanging out at our buddy Neals. EJ was always a funny, caring, and charismatic individual. I can't even count or recall all the times he's helped me or I've helped him; but that's what friends do. Over time EJ became one of my best friends. He will be dearly missed by many and I send nothing but positive affirmations and prayers to his family. One of my most memorable moments with him was eating some of his mom's homemade tamales with him on his birthday. Absolutely delicious, and I'm glad I got to spend his big day with him. Rest In Peace EJ, we'll always love you buddy. - Dylan

“ Elliot and I had first met back in middle school, he’s such a positive individual and always has the best sense of humor. He’s a Heck of a worker & at many points my best friend. I worked alongside Elliot and we enjoyed each other’s company so much it was like we were just hanging out even when we had to grind long / early hours together. Here’s to Ej who’s one of the only people I knew this long who I can truly say we were always enjoying each other’s company no matter what was going on. I’m thankful we reconnected when we did and made MANY memories.
