“ at sad times like these we often look for places to find comfort one place I have found is the Bible for it not only comforts but it also gives us hope at Isaiah 26:19 it says "Your dead ones will live.... They will rise up." where? at Psalm 37:29 it says "The righteous themselves will possess the earth, and they will reside forever upon it."

“ To Georgette, Mike and Terry and to the grandchildren and great-grandchildren, My deepest sympathy to you all. I encourage you to keep your memories of him fresh in your hearts. Share them as often as you can. Continue to speak of him always and he will always be there with you. I pray for you that you may find peace as you go through this time of grief. Like the large ship leaving this harbor. Slowly shrinking as it sails towards the horizon, where the sky and sea meet. The great ship disappears and we feel sad and miss the strength and safety the ship gave to us. Please remember there are others on the other side awaiting the arrival. Cheering the Great Ship home to the shore of forever. God loves you! Your cousin, Bobby

“ My deepest sympathies to the entire family! Mr. Warwick has been a part of my life since I was 16 years old and my family and I paid many visits to Fruit Farm road over the years! Both of your parents were always welcoming and never hesitated with a kind word or gesture! Did I mention your Mom made the best beef barbeque!?!?! Always something ready when we completed work at 11P! He will be missed! I pray for comfort for all through this most difficult time. May you trust in the promises given to us by our Savior, He knows your tears and one day will wipe them all away.. xoxoxox "He will wipe every tear from their eyes..." Revelation 21:4
