“ The Children's Hour
BY HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW

*Between the dark and the daylight,
When the night is beginning to lower,
Comes a pause in the day's occupations,
That is known as the Children's Hour.*

*I hear in the chamber above me
The patter of little feet,
The sound of a door that is opened,
And voices soft and sweet.*

*From my study I see in the lamplight,
Descending the broad hall stair,
Grave Alice, and laughing Allegra,
And Edith with golden hair.*

*A whisper, and then a silence:
Yet I know by their merry eyes
They are plotting and planning together
To take me by surprise.*

*A sudden rush from the stairway,
A sudden raid from the hall!
By three doors left unguarded
They enter my castle wall!*

*They climb up into my turret
O'er the arms and back of my chair;
If I try to escape, they surround me;
They seem to be everywhere.*

*They almost devour me with kisses,
Their arms about me entwine,
Till I think of the Bishop of Bingen*

In his Mouse-Tower on the Rhine!

*Do you think, O blue-eyed banditti,
Because you have scaled the wall,
Such an old mustache as I am
Is not a match for you all!*

*I have you fast in my fortress,
And will not let you depart,
But put you down into the dungeon
In the round-tower of my heart.*

*And there will I keep you forever,
Yes, forever and a day,
Till the walls shall crumble to ruin,
And moulder in dust away!*

And remember...

*I love you so much,
I love you more...
A hundred, thousand ,million...*

“ Marge, girls, i'm very sorry to hear of George's passing. I would like to mention something about George.when we were neighbors many years ago, there was a baseball field, a basketball court and a field.he would see us always playing one game or another.Hey George, you want to have catch. Hey George can you come down to the court.This man, and i really mean man,always gave time to the neighborhood kids.he had a wife and four daughters, and still took some time out for us kids. I loved George and i would tell him that when i would see him locally.I did get to see him during his rehab at Powerback.i told him everything i'm saying now.and i told him i loved him.

Hey Kelly and Joey, I know you guys came by to visit old Bick recently, but this damn virus had us all keep our distances! He loved your dad and now they are fist pumping to all of us left here on this god-forsaken planet! Thanks for the love and support at this difficult time. Hope to see you at a memorial soon! Love you! :)

Lynn, I sincerely apologize for such a late condolence message. I just found out your Dad has passed. It was a lifetime ago your Dad crushed my hand with a handshake in the front yard on Melvin road... He was a good man and love his girls very much... (Girt)
