“ I am saddened to hear of the loss of your husband and father. Even though I work at WCU, I did not know Greg. But we are all saddened when one of our own passes away. Having lost my mother recently, I can certainly understand what you are going through. I pray that God may send you comfort in your time of pain.

“ Greg was an expert sign maker. He greatly improved the image of the University with the hundreds of professional-looking signs he made. His fine work will be on display throughout the campus for thousands of visitors to campus to appreciate for years to come. He was also very willing to learn the latest computer techniques for making signs. And, of course he was an excellent carpenter. You could always count on his work being of the highest quality. I am proud to have known him.

“ I am so sorry to hear about the loss of Greg. Over the years my students in my Industrial Hygiene class would visit the carpentry shop to learn about ventilation systems. Greg was so helpful assisting in this endeavor and was tireless in answering the students' questions about how the system worked and what the job of carpentry involved. He was a fine colleague.
