“ I remember Harcharan uncle's postcards that he would send for special occasions, cards from all over the world and written in different colored ink. It was his trademark and a special thing to get one of his postcards. He also was so generous with his time and his love for music. Any time I visited their house, and commented on the lovely music he would be playing, by the time I left, he would have burned a CD to give to me with that music. We will miss you, uncle!
