“ Dana, It was with deep sadness I learned of your wife's passing. While there is little comfort in times like this for you and Danielle please consider how blessed you both were to have Joann for her time with you. I lost my mother at 19yrs of age and my sister was 10 at the time so I am aware of the nature of Danielle's feelings- she will need you more than ever. Please accept my deepest sympathies and my thoughts and prayers are for you and Danielle to grow together in the spirit of Joann's wishes for both of you.

“ Dear Dana, Joann was the sweetest person in the world and I am so sad right now for you and Danielle, knowing that your hearts are broken. I know that you are a believer, though, and that you know so many are praying and asking God to comfort you and give you strength. He will. Joann was the first person I came to at work after getting my own breast cancer diagnosis; she jumped right up and gave me a warm hug and many words of encouragement afterwards. She was always extremely professional and competent, but she set an example for me and for many others as to how we could be more than just co-workers, we could be people with full, rich lives and families outside of work who also just happened to show up together in the same building 5 days a week. My sincerest condolences and prayers, Wendy “ Joann took a chance in hiring me into her department 11 years ago with out any experience in training or CDM. Her faith in my skills, as well as her mentoring and guidance helped shape the person that I am today. Then we moved on to working together at Chilton. So many more wonderful memories were made here. We each went our separate ways with work and family, but never completely lost contact (all those emails back and forth while we were suppose to be working, lol). “ I am so grateful to have had Joann in my life as a supervisor, mentor and most importantly a friend. Joann inspired and influenced me in so many positive ways over the last 20 years. I would be a very different person today without Joann's guidance, encouragement and support. She always demonstrated incredible kindness, empathy, understanding and warmth. She had a gift for bringing a smile to everyone's face, even the most stoic individuals. Her laughter was infectious. Someone else said, with Joann's passing, the world is a little dimmer, but heaven is much brighter. So true. I hope Joann's family and friends find comfort in knowing Joann is a very special angel whom God called home and who now watches over us from above....and is probably planning an exceptionally well coordinated homecoming for each one of us!
