He grew up on his family's farm in Upper Providence township. Upon completion of his schooling at Upper Providence Consolidated School, John worked as a carpenter for 10 years. Over the years, John served faithfully as a song leader, deacon and choir member. Most recently, he attended the Lower Skippack Mennonite Church. John was also a member of the Red Power Tractor club. Along with his five brothers, he enjoyed singing at special events. He looked forward to camping trips with his family each summer, and his annual 4th of July Tractor Parade at his farm that has taken place since 1976 with many other friends and neighbors and their tractors.

John and his wife Edith celebrated 72 years of marriage in September. “ We know John and Edith as we moved to little rd. In 1992. Whenever it snowed John would be on his tractor plowing everyone's driveway for a cup of coffee. We looked forward to the tractor parade every year. He and Edith were always very kind and easy to talk to. He will be missed. ❤️
