“ I knew Karl while he was the Wastewater Director at West Chester and I was a member of Borough Council. We didn't see much of him because his department ran very well, so we didn't need to get involved very often, but when he gave a report, it was always a work of art. My thought at the time was "he's an English major trapped in a blue collar job" but as I see from his obituary, his skills went far beyond industrial plant management. He and Judy have both made my experience in West Chester better, and I wish I had more than sympathy to offer to her and their friends.
