Larry was employed by Abbotts Dairy and Lehigh Valley Dairy during his working years until his retirement. Larry was a great handyman, a "Jack Of All Trades," who could fix anything and enjoyed tinkering with things in his spare time.

During summers, he liked spending extensive time caring for his fruit and vegetable garden. Larry was also a frequent visitor to Disney World, a place he enjoyed going to with his family. Larry loved going into the woods to find, cut and split wood for his wood stove.

He enjoyed time spent with his family and friends, dining out, and watching Penn State and Eagles Football. Larry was always on the go and nothing could keep him down.

Larry is survived by his children: Jill Lovecchio, of Jeffersonville, Donna, wife of Tom Stover, of Phoenixville and John, husband of Kathy Parker, of Audubon; ten grandchildren: Brian and David Lovecchio, Thomas, Stephen and Michael Stover, Lisa Saylor, Jaime Minnick, John Parker, Jr., and Scott and Patricia Parker; seventeen great-grandchildren; and three sisters: Eleanor Foster, of Conshohocken, Madeline Butler, of NC and Kathryn Mateja, of Eagleville. In addition to his wife and parents, Larry was preceded in death by a brother: George Jr; a son: Lawrence Jr. (Husband of Renee Troxel-Parker); and a great-granddaughter: Kara Noelle.

“ I was thinking of Mr.Parker today. He would come to the Trooper Diner and drop off peppers to my dad. He knew my dad would make his own hot sauce and always had some special, crazy colored tomatoes for him to mix into the sauce! Truly missed! -A. Tartour

“ Larry was a great neighbor and special friend. He loved to barge into my office at Valley View Community Church ... unannounced ... and bug me while I was talking, texting, emailing, writing, praying, counseling, studying, or in some "high level" staff meeting. It didn't matter to Larry. Anytime was a good time to raze me that I "looked tired" or was "losing my hair" or "hadn't shaved" or there was "a better way" to do whatever I was doing ... Larry's way. Ha!

Larry constantly amazed me with his energy, his ingenuity, and his ability to do or fix almost anything. He was quick to lend a hand, lend a tool, or lend a piece of time tested advice. I'll cherish fond memories of visiting Larry in his home, reading Scripture together, and praying with him. He loved his wife Ruth and missed her dearly. Now they are reunited in the presence of their Savior Jesus Christ. We'll miss you, Larry. Rest in peace, my friend.

“ I'll always remember the Friday night card games alternating between the Groff house and the Parker house. As they got older Larry often would just stop in to check on mom and dad. My condolences to the family- he was a good man.
