“ In the early 90's Lenny introduced me to the first music that I listened to as a teenager that wasn't what my parents were listening to. My dad had printed business cards for his record store. When we went to deliver the cards to his store I had asked him what was a band I should listen to. Lenny told me STP was a band that was being sold pretty good at the time. Lenny sold me a tape of their first album. I thought it was the coolest thing to have a cousin that had a record store.

Thank you Lenny for introducing me to STP and ALT Rock music! 🙏

“ Lenny was my Godmother's son and three years older than me.

My sister and I have been texting each other since he fell ill in August. In that time, it hit me how influential he had been to me as a musician.

Lenny LOVED the Blues. I remember he especially loved Johnny Winter. Lenny had guitars and an amplifier in his bedroom and I was mesmerized by them. My memories of our interactions at that time are a bit fuzzy as it was 50-ish years ago. But I remember he lent me a guitar instructional cassette, I don't think it was strictly Led Zeppelin but I do remember learning how to play "Livin' Lovin' Maid" from it.

Lenny was RABID about music, it was contagious and inspiring to me at a time when I couldn't get enough of music and learning how to play the guitar. I am eternally grateful to Lenny and the patience he had with me. I remember him as being a really nice, quiet person.

Thanks for allowing me to hang around and pester you Lenny. You made a difference in my life and I will never forget you.
