“ Dear Bill,

Bob Jantzen of the Villanova Math Department spread the word of Lilliam's passing just moments ago when he had first learned of it. It comes as a complete shock to me and to all others who were around long enough to remember Lilliam's time at Villanova. She and I were in the same hiring class.

Lilliam was such a warm and vibrant person. The students loved her. We all loved her.

Patty and I send our sincerest condolences to you and your family, with regret that it is so late in arriving.

*With deep sympathy,
Andy Woldar*

“ Dearest Bill and Family,

I just found out about your beautiful Lilliam's death. Jack and I had no idea that she died until today. We are so very sorry for your and your family's terrible loss.

Every time I think of Lilliam, a smile comes to my face, as hers was and remains infectious.

She adored all of you, and I know that because she told me so every time I saw her.

The world is way less joyful without her sweet, loving and brilliant spirit, but is a much better place for her having walked upon it!

*Much love to all,
Mary Ellen and Jack Smith Family*

“ *Although we did not know Lilliam long enough, I will never forget her hospitality. We had moved in next door to Bill and Lilliam and were busy unpacking and renovating. One evening she stopped by with a beautiful smile and plate of wonderful desserts - a bright spot in our busyness! The memory of her bubbly personality will always remind us to live life to the fullest! Our hearts break for Bill and the rest of her loving family. We don't know the why, but we do know God had his loving arms wrapped around you through it all.

Just hearing of this, Lillian was a excellant teacher, I had her for a few Statistics classes at Saint Joseph's. Pretty tough on the grades but I enjoyed her classes very much. God Bless Lillain.

“ My Aunt Lilliam was a beautiful individual, inside and out, and one of the most intelligent women I have ever known. I have countless memories with her throughout my lifetime... our cousins and siblings swimming in Grandma and Grandpa's pool in Michigan & taking those huge family photos on the black platform around the big tree... Christmas Eve Cuban dinners... Aunt Lilliam & I wearing matching white turtlenecks with little red hearts on them... Russell pouring heaps of sugar on his toast & Lilliam laughing/yelling at him for it... lighting up the dance floor at her sons' weddings... more swimming and fun at the house in Miami... & I'll always treasure the beautiful little gift she gave me when I graduated from Nursing school, a little porcelain heart-shaped trinket box... & more dancing at ALL the cousins' weddings, (SO MUCH CHOCOLATE at Laura's wedding in Hershey!)...and Aunt Lilliam then spoke at my wedding as an honored guest... and we had so much fun visiting Papi at Meadowwood many times, taking trips to WaWa and laughing him as he would put salt (& pepper, sometimes) in his coffee... then she & Uncle Bill brought Scotty to Paris for his 10th birthday trip and they brought me the mini-crib that I had ordered for Soleil (lugged that thing through security, on the plane, on the Metro and through the streets of Paris to meet us downtown)... and we will never forget the wonderful 90th birthday party she planned for Papi, and more recently we enjoyed some fantastic weather & an awesome relaxing day at the beach, with lots of family in Miami for Carmen's wedding (too much Rum Punch for certain individuals)... and even more recently I got the pleasure of a 3-day solo trip to Lititz to spend time with both Aunt Lilliam and my Uncle Bill. She was so happy to just "hang out," with her beautiful smile on, (most of the time), even when frustrated. Uncle Bill took such delicate care of her, with a commitment & patience not commonly seen. Perhaps the memory I will cherish most is that smile... the way her face beamed when Uncle Bill, one of their sons, or any one of their cherished grandchildren entered a room. She was blessed to have loving sons & daughters-in-law who make family such a priority... & last, but certainly not least: she was a great friend to my mom, Lissette, her "near-twin" sister, who will deeply miss her. I love you all and, am so honored to have had Lilliam such a beautiful part of my life!

I was so shocked to hear of Lilliam's passing. She was the most beautiful and intelligent woman I had the good fortune to befriend. But it was her zest for life and family that drew me in to love her as a dear friend. Greg and I shared many a holiday with she and Bill and their sons and spouses. Nothing seemed too much for her when it came to showing love for her family and friends. I know Bill, her children and grandchildren, and all their many friends, like me, will sorely miss such a bright light in their lives.
