“ Loretta,

I will forever be indebted to you for the sacrifices you made for my family. You have watched over Aiden since his birth and did so with love and kindness only a grandmother could give and for that I will always love you. I wish you were still here...to see the kids grow up...for Aiden's first day of school...to watch Aiden one day look down upon you...to look at your face and see your beautiful smile as you looked out over that blue water. You did not have an easy life and I will always admire you for your strength and your unconditional love, devotion and loyalty to Dave and your children. When Kim and I had our disagreements, in your eyes she was always right and I was dead wrong...just as it should be in a Mother's eyes. I will never ever forget you. You truly understood what was most important in life "Family." If you were here right now I would pick you up and twirl you around and get that trip to the blue water planned no matter what the cost; to see you smile like you did in the pictures from years past. The last words I spoke to you I made a promise to take care of Dave, Kimmy, Jacob, Sky and Aiden. I know you will be watching over me to make sure I do just that. I learned early on they meant so much to you.

“ My heartfelt condolences to the Cox/Daddario families. The Angels took her by the hand and led her to a peaceful, painless afterlife where she will be comforted by her mom & dad. My fondest memory of Loretta will be playing in the backyard making mud pies. She touched so many lives and will be missed by all.

“ David ,I know your heart aches and it strange god had a plan for you when only months ago we nearly lost you ,he knew you needed to be here for your children and grandchildren to bring them through this terrible time... And to your children Davey,josh,Kimmy and John your mom carried you each for 9 months she watched you take your first step get your first tooth.was there for your first day of school, and every year after.she watched as you became your own individual person,and as one by one you each chose your separate path you would travel she watched you go. She was so very proud of you all.she knew she must let you spread your wings.now comes time for that painful reality for you to help her spread her wings and fly to a beautiful destination.be strong as much as it hurts and find comfort in knowing one day you will be together again. I love you all!

“ I'm so so sorry for your loss. Although it seems unbearable, I know this family enough to say you all will carry on. Loretta is still alive in pictures that bring back memories of good times, the house where you shared jokes then laughed a lot and your hearts. I can only pray when it's my time to go, I will have the same support you gave Loretta. She is now in heaven laughing, watching the grand kids grow, dancing with out any pain and keeping an eye on her family. Not much different from when she was here with us. This isn't goodbye, just see you later... I love you guys, please stay strong together!

“ So che le parole non servono in momenti come questi, e che il dolore è enorme. Non ci sono parole o gesti che possono colmare il vuoto, ma il mio cuore è con voi. “ Mom... I can't believe I am sitting here writing a message of condolence to you here on this site... Where your obituary is posted.... There are not enough words or emotions in this world that could express how I feel. It makes my heart heavy to know that you are no longer here in physical form, but I know that by the love that you showed me and everyone in your life that I you will be with me in spirit wherever my feet take me. Despite my sadness, I am thankful you are no longer suffering and you are finally at peace. I truly and wholeheartedly mean it when I tell you that I love you to the moon and back. I always will. Rest in peace, Mom. My sweet angel in heaven. Until the day I can be with you again... I love you.
