“ Oh my beautiful, kind, spit fire of a best work friend. Though it's been some time since I've seen you face to face we never stopped talking. You were the first person to find out I was pregnant and held my hand through more journeys than I can count. It's taken me days to process the news but I know you're still with us in spirit. I love you and always will. My deepest condolences to Adrian, your precious babies of all ages, and family.
