“ As most of you know Ralph was a huge Yankees fan. He watched them often and was always ready to talk baseball, Yankee baseball in particular. Well in 2009 Ralph and I had a bet on the World Series. It was his Yankees against my Phillies. We talked about baseball that whole series. About the Yankees and their rich history and about the Phillies. I ended up losing the wager and had to purchase Ralph a new Yankee hat. I delivered it on my head to his house. He was all smiles, invited me in and we resumed our baseball talk. Ralph was so easy to talk to and so knowledgeable. I'm going to miss the baseball talks and his wonderful sense of humor.

Rest in Piece Mr. Schlichthernlein (Ralph).

We hold dear many fond memories over the years, especially... these last summers when Kim and I visited you and yours at the Jersey Shore (Kim still talks about sharing a big bag of Cheese Doodles with you :). lots of laughs being a part of your extended family. Sadly, you will be greatly missed this year but you leave a wonderful family to carry on. We can't thank you enough for giving us Ralph and Barbara as our closest friends.

Sleep well knowing you are with your family, friends (parents of the old gang from the Bronx including my own) and especially, be comforted being with your beautiful wife Jackie of many years.
