“ Without question Bob lead a full life. He supported his country serving in ...I believe the Army Air Force before the Air Force became a branch of the military. Bob served, in of all places..... India. He saw some very run down conditions during his tour of duty without doubt. But in addition to his service to his country, his service to the Lord was most consistent and significant. His teaching was uplifting and enlightening and thought provoking. It was obvious Bob spent much time preparing what he taught his class.

I believe Bob worked in Philadelphia. He did not use a vehicle to get there.....he rode the train.....the Ole Reading Railroad.....Royersford to Philly and back. He walked rain or shine, snow or sleet to the train station at the foot of Main Street. Bob walked up the hill and down the hill from and to his residence on Washington Street. Great exercise to do twice a day.

Bob did not die..... but in Bible language Bob fell asleep and is now a resident of Heaven.

The memory of his consecrated life lives on as his family and friends reflect on Robert G. Mock Sr. Dave and Barbara Urner
