“ R.I.P. Ramona as we all knew you at work. I never knew your real name was Ivy until now and I see you were spelling your name a little different at work. But that is the Ramona we all knew at Quest. I will never forget you. I have so many fond memories of you. The one that will stay with me forever while I am still at Quest is you complaining about how my paperwork is done when I'm out of the office. You kept telling me I needed to train them to do it how I did so it was easy to understand and you knew what paperwork went with a check. Every time I would tell you I was going to be out of the office you told me I wasn't allowed to have off. We had some fun time chatting about other things also. There are a lot of memories I'm sure all of us that worked with you could share with your family. Will always remember the bright smile you had whenever we were having a chat and the devilish one you would have and the look in your eyes when I would say I'm going to be out of the office. I could go on and on my work buddy. The most important thing is that I'm going to miss you very much. My thoughts and prayers are with your family at this very difficult time.

“ Rest in Peace my Dear friend. Working with you side by side with you for the last 16 years was an honor. I will miss your smile that would light up the room. I will miss all the funny voices you made when I would call you on the phone. I will miss you giving me a hard time any chance you got. I will miss our rants about the Eagles and the Cowboys. Most of all I will miss you. You never knew this, but you were part of the reason I got up everyday to go to work with a smile on my face. There is only one Ramona Clayburn and I am so lucky to have known you and considered your friend. You will be missed dearly.
