“ Goodbye Ryan! I will miss you coming into the college for class and chatting with me. You told me how much you enjoyed talking to me because I was always nice to you. You treated me with kindness and respect and I will always remember you. You reminded me of the son I would have liked to have, if I would have had one. One day you told me that you were going to be married and I remember asking you another time, if you got to marry your girlfriend. You said yes, she is the best part of my life. You had a sparkle in your eyes. When you went missing, I hoped one day you would walk through that front door and I would hug you and say how nice it was seeing you again. But God had other plans for you! I looked at all the pictures of your wife and family that were posted online and it is great knowing how much your family loved you! Please rest in peace now and watch over all of us! Love, Bonnie
