“ It is such a sad time now for our family but somehow all I can think of is the fun that Uncle Vince brought to life. From taking me and my siblings/cousins to Dairy Queen as kids, taking us to the July 4th fireworks, buying us Dixie Cups with a stick on a Friday night at Gram and Gramps, to always rough-housing with us in the ocean on vacation and even making the cute blue and white polka dot bikinis for his babies, Uncle Vince was always ready to do anything fun. Memorial Day at 137 Maplewood Avenue was a tradition with Uncle Vince having the badminton net/rackets/birdies ready for ridiculously fun games ahead. He was the first to sit down to any dinner being served--definitely his MO and he owned it:) And, who could forget his Woody Woodpecker laugh! Life with Uncle Vince in it was always fun and, no matter what adversity came his way, he never lost his devilish spirit. Of course, this is only one dimension of the man but oh it was his most prized one because he could make you smile even on your difficult days...What a gift! Our world will be a little less fun without him in it. Uncle Vince, I will miss you. Love you forever, Linda
