“ Butch loved his wife and family more than anything. He showed me daily what a great husband and father figure looked like. He was what I call a man’s man who worked hard and could fix anything. Over the last 42 years I never saw him be mean or yell at anyone. He was kind to all and always willing to help if needed or just sit and talk. He loved gardening, dogs, westerns, dancing polka, going to flea markets, decorating his house at Christmas and setting up his train platform and spending time with family. I know the last years were tough on him, but he still always greeted me with a smile and he would say “so how is Mr. Miller” every time a arrived for Sunday dinner. Could not have asked for a better father-in-law or mother-in-law.
