“ So many memories, where does one even begin? Bill, you were an awesome brother-in-law and I'm having a hard time believing you're really gone. You were truly one of the most easygoing, laid-back guys I knew. I will always remember you when I think of: piling in your van to go jump the rocks at St. Pete's, The 3 Stooges, all things celestial, farmer jeans and your ever-present moustache, etc. You could tell a great story! I remember you once went on a plumbing job and sitting in the kitchen was former President Nixon. Your sense of humor immediately kicked in and you yelled "Plumber's here!." (Not the best thing to yell so soon after Watergate but I thought it was hysterical!). Soar high amongst the stars you knew so well. Rest easy bro and we'll see you on the other side!

“ Uncle Bill always would be there if I needed to talk and vent... Even if I needed cheering up after a sad time in my life. Use to tell me; to write, be myself, and to not let other take away my light for I am special and people will see it one day. Rest in Peace Uncle Bill and please tell everyone them in heaven, that they just got the best Angel, Father, Dad, Husband, Best Friend, and Uncle to help them watch over all of us here. I love you Uncle Bill and I won't say Good Bye, but Say Hello to you everyday ((HUGS)) <3

I'll always remember being on the back hill at Royersford playground and I had just gotten a new 10 speed. Well being that it was You John Stimmel, Peter Deback and myself after discussing and ingesting some of the problems coming out of Viet Nam at that point...you borrowed my bike to go from the playground to Allan's on main Street...you got back about an hour later and I had just made my way from the back hill to the front hills and it's never taken that long to walk that far since I became disabled which was 2001 or somewhere there about...God Bless you, You were a great teacher in Tae Qwan Do and the other eastern arts at you were adept at street smarts. You taught me many invaluable lessons. Now if I could only get the communications thing down between here and there we could get You ,Billy Myers, Dave, MoonBeamer all our friends getting together to talk from both sides...work on that PLEASE? Billy G.
