“ Bill was a legend, one of the greatest guitar players I knew. I'm angry and sad that he is gone. He was always a friend to me, I wish I was around to talk to him. He was such an old soul. He lives on in all who knew him.....man what a time to leave the planet, you are with you momma and a lot of good people who loved you very much

“ Bill was an amazing guitarist, we jammed so many times together. Even played a show in West Chester. We used to practice in a small barn on valley forge mountain, where he lived when I knew him. His dad Rick had a Ludwig kit set up with a set of bull horns attached to the front like a Texas Roadhouse kit. I miss him very much, I just found out today that he isn't here....I never post stuff on the computer but he was a true legend....the light he left will always remain, his music and notes are still vibrating in the universe and will always

“ I have known Billy since he was born. Such a kind and talented human being! I am so sad that he is no longer with us. To the family of Billy- just look around and you will know he is right there with you. He will never stop loving you!

“ Bill and I had Chemistry class together in high school. One day he came to class and asked me if I wanted to go to a Pearl Jam concert. We went together and were great friends ever since. My family really loved him. He came over a few years ago not knowing it was my birthday and he quickly left and came back with a pair of earrings with sparrows on them. That’s just the kind of guy he was. Bill was truley a kind and bright soul. I will always miss him.

“ Our love for Bill will never end. We cherish all of our memories of Bill....the very early memories like his creative Ghost Buster back-pack that Pop-Pop created for him; moving construction trucks 'au fait' in the sandbox, quite mindful of detail; how he loved Johnny Mathis as a youngster; a very accomplished martial arts young man; and, how his sense of wit and humor, love for history and music carried him through a painful and difficult adolescence. Despite hardship, Bill always maintained that sense of humor and his kind, caring and loving spirit remained until the end. God rest Bill's soul, for God has turned sadness to joy and death to new life wrought by the Resurrection. This we believe.

“The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it” (John 1:5).

Love,
Aunt Bea & Uncle Curt

“ Billy was one of my best friends and I'm going to miss him. We used to love listening to Steely Dan and Phish and talking all about music while we were working building some stone igloo or Tiki Hut. Deacon Blues by Steely Dan was a tune we would listen to a lot. That song meant a lot to him. Going to miss you buddy- Mike

“ From the moment I first saw you and held you in my arms, an emptiness I previously felt was washed away. You were the sweetest and most kind person I have ever known. Through all your hardships and pain, you remained unselfish and joyful. A common thread I have been reading and hearing from friends is the amazing connection that you made by helping others. You understood the meaning of sacrifice. How I miss your laugh and our heavy discussions, especially on history and the civil war. And how can I not mention music! As a baby, it was Johnny Mathis that lulled you to sleep. The first time you heard Prince, Michael Jackson and the Rolling Stones opened your eyes and set you on a wonderful path of music and the guitar. This loss we are all suffering without you is immeasurable. I don't know who said this, but grief is truly the price we pay for such love. You have filled my mind and heart with beautiful memories Billy. Until we meet again, may God rest your beautiful soul

“ Words cannot express this broken heart of mine. Attached are two photos.. One, us walking to see Radiohead in 2008 at Randall's Island, with Cousin Eric (not pictured). The other is the last time I saw Billy, on June 17th. Whether it was the heaviness in his voice or his eagerness to help his younger cousin, something told me to sneak this photo as a remembrance of how kind-hearted Billy was. We were starving, it was scorching hot outside and he was exhausted, but he wanted to make sure I got home safely later on with a fixed car. This last memory is symbolic of how caring he was towards others. I will miss you dearly, Billy. I will also always cherish the recent voicemails I have saved on my phone. <3
